03/04/2019

Below is a list of the 2018-2019 Instructional Technology and Learning Sciences Department award recipients at Utah State. We want to congratulate all of our award recipients from the academic year. All worked hard in their specific areas of study. These awards are well deserved. We want to especially recognize Megan Hamilton and Dr. Victor Lee on their awards, as they were recognized by the Emma Eccles Jones College of Education and Human Services for their distinctions.

We will have more stories with details on several of these award winners in the coming weeks.
